The Vendors' story about their home is a good read do not miss it further on in this media release.

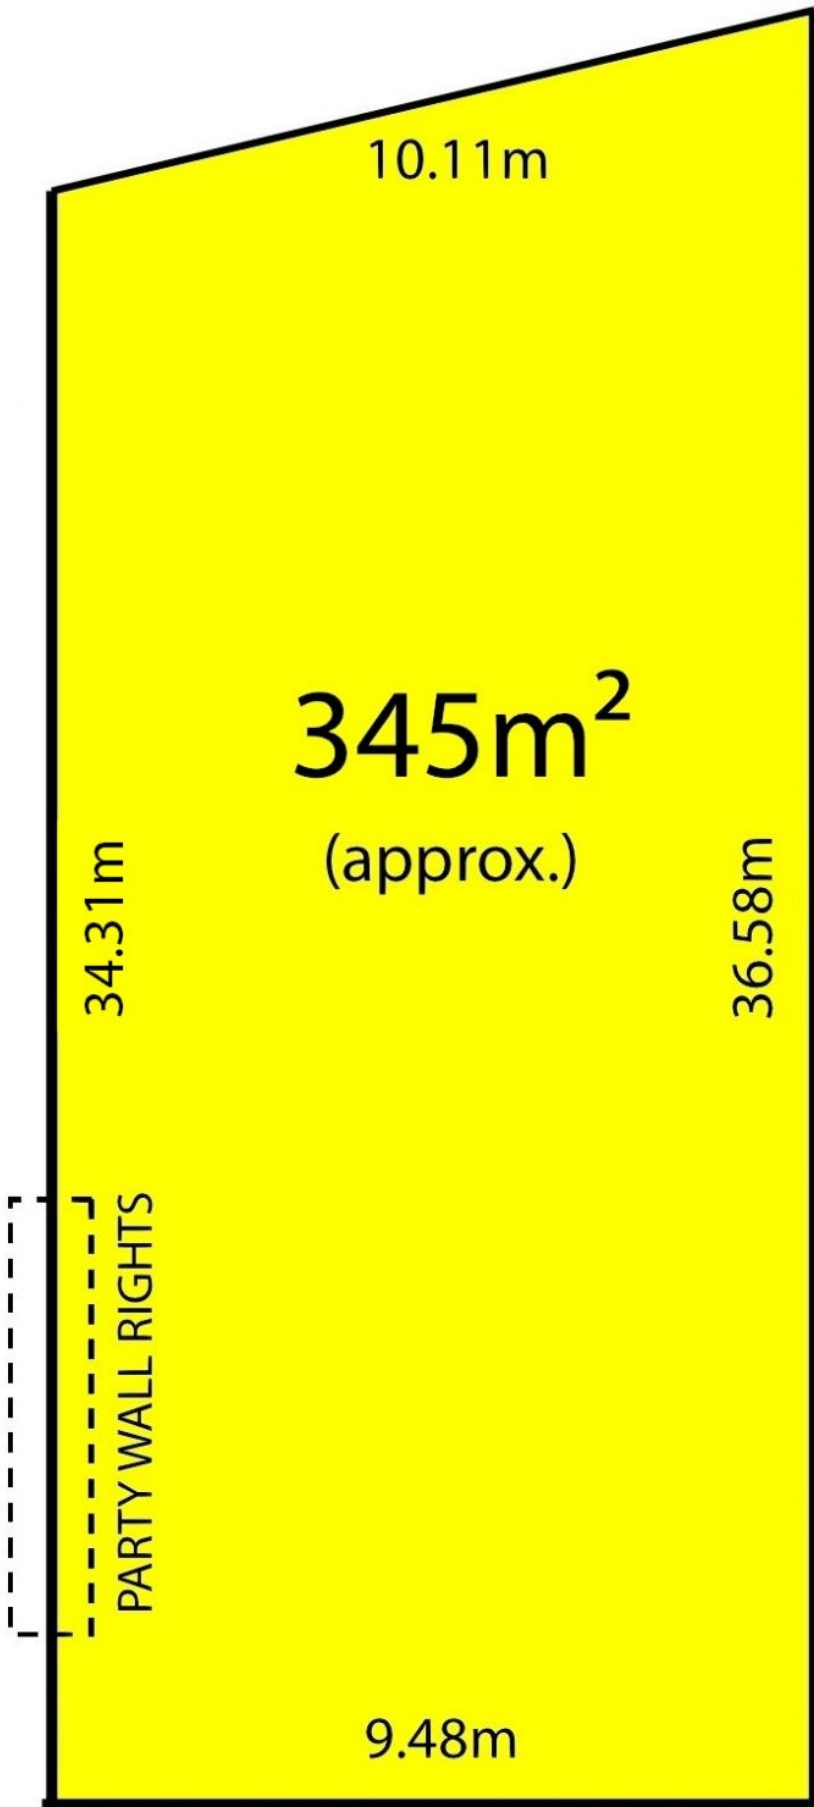

This residence has an amazing entrance hallway that just gives you a feeling of space the moment you walk in the front door. This room could be set up as a sitting room or as a media room as another option to the home layout.

The home includes a stunning living room, dining room, kitchen. This hub of a home room has access out to the undercover outdoor alfresco living area and also access to the side of the home with the second outdoor living area.
