This home was designed to stand out for many years to come. One of those homes you drive past and think Gosh that home looks great. The clever use of timber, architectural angles and unique glass window features truly give this home a look that will stand the test of time of design. One may call it a classic.

All the living rooms and bedrooms are very large, an attribute that is becoming hard to find.

- Open plan living, meals and kitchen that opens out to 3 external areas of the home.
