4 2 1

The Vendors of this home have lived here since constructed and is now being sold to finalise their estate.

Please read the Vendor's points of interest about this home. It has been in the family since 1964 and they have all enjoyed living there and it has been a great family home.

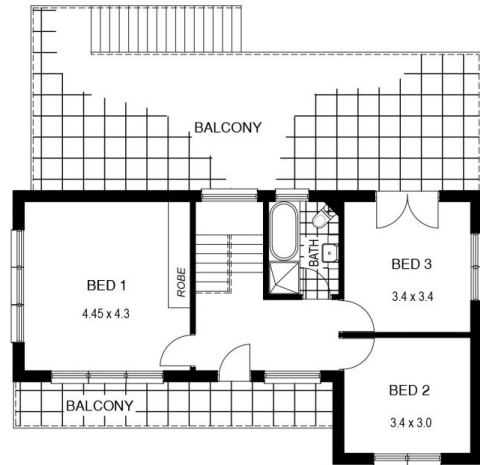

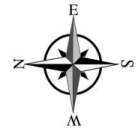

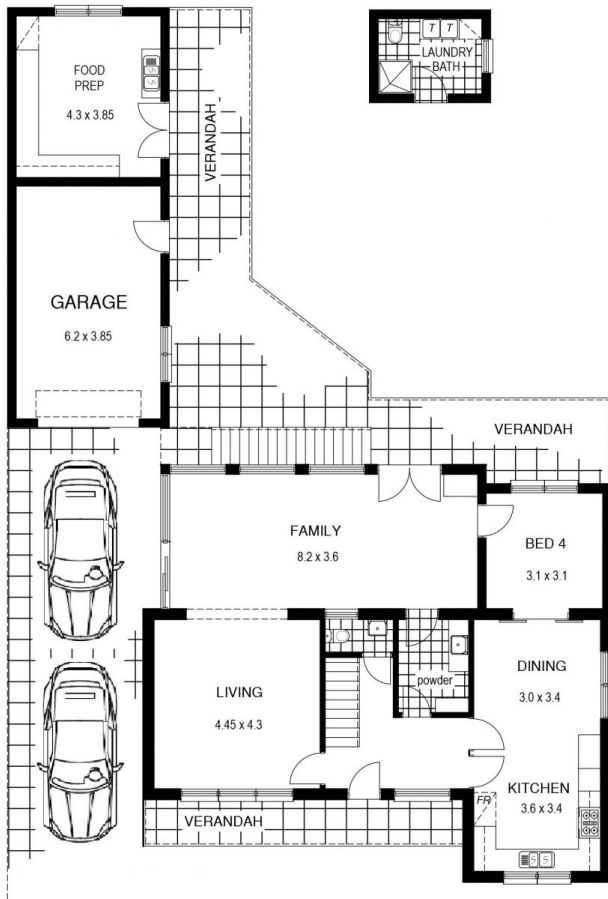

This home is solid brick, well-constructed residence that certainly many buyers will consider as an opportunity to purchase a large home with 2 levels of living and bedroom space that are very generous. The upper level includes large balconies at both front and rear. This makes this an opportunity to purchase a home and refurbish it to suit you for a brilliant lifestyle from this point on, yet a very clean and well maintained home to live in as it is.

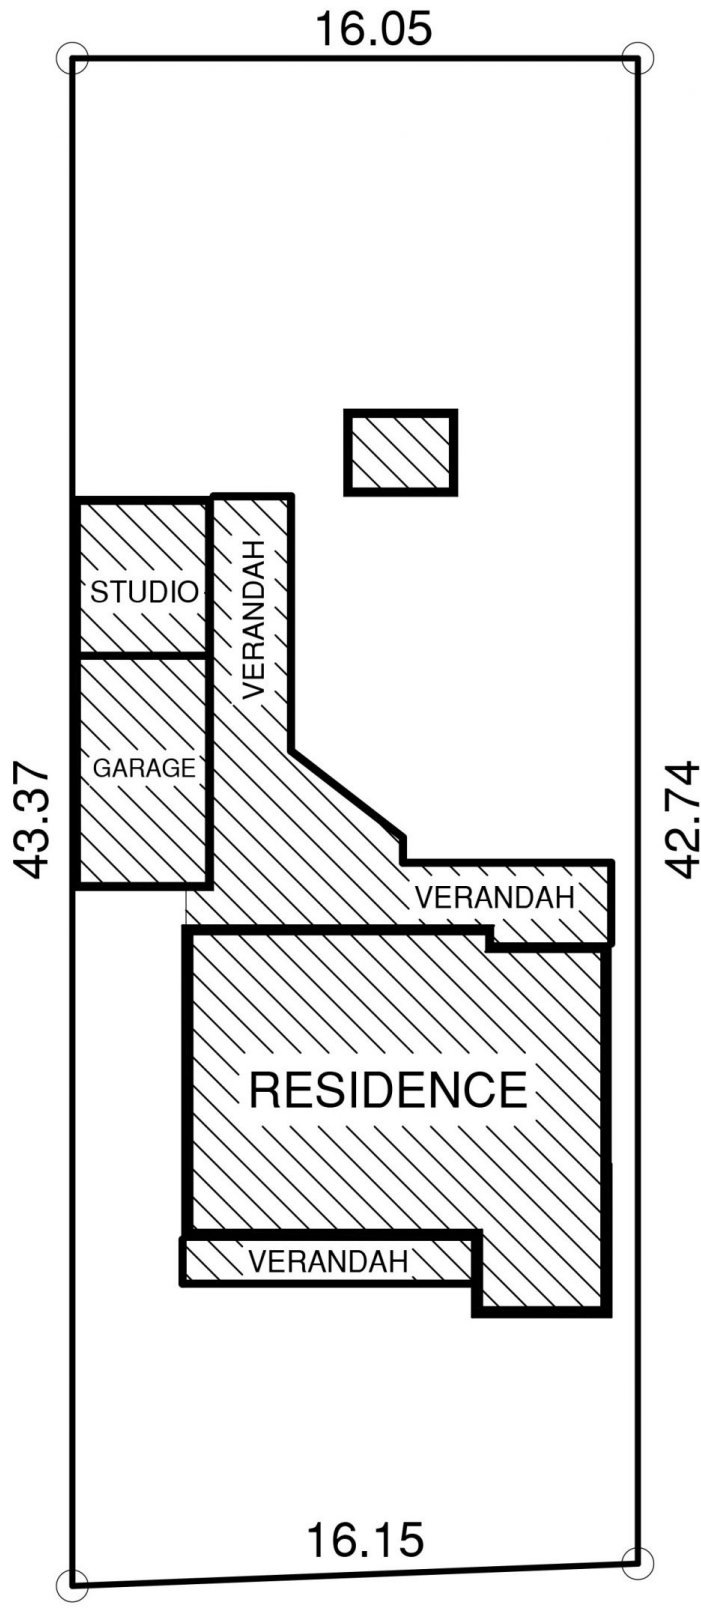

The design is easy to handle, take out some walls, put in
